

ALL SORTS.

A heavy wind storm set in Sunday. Mr. Kelly continues his cheap grocery war. The coming weather is expected to be showery. Miss Bath has been given the position of nurse girl at the Home. John T. Williams, an old resident of the Comstock, died there yesterday. Johnny Jones was the lucky man who drew a check at Cohn's yesterday. Mr. Irvine the San Francisco attorney is in this city and stopping at the Arlington. Ex Senator John Torrey, who is built like old Falstaff, was in the city yesterday. Judge Bonfield has purchased E. J. Parkinsons residence, and will take possession May 1st. V. Delpini a window cleaner, shot and killed Eugene Dilidi, in San Francisco, Saturday. The wind yesterday blew considerable seed out of the ground just planted by the farmers. The Court in session yesterday at Washington failed to hand in a decision on the income tax law. Better own a little farm in Carson Valley, than be the Emperor of China and scared to death.—Courier. J. S. Leeds, Traffic Manager of the Traffic Association, has tendered his resignation, which has been accepted. Yesterday was Prince Bismark's birthday, and Germany declared a national holiday on the strength of it. Black Wallace the Eureka rancher was in this city yesterday. He says the picture of him in the Call is not half as handsome as he is. S. Engler of Tascara is suing the Western Union for having their wives down so that his runaway horse got entrapped. J. G. Farrington is his attorney. It has been raining heavily out on the Humboldt and Honey Lake Valley. The ground is saturated with moisture and the roads are in bad condition. Cleveland wont be in a hurry about an extra session. Congress might conclude to call for light on the bond transaction by which some one made $9,000,000 out of the bond loan. A second invoice of Stanley shirts have been received by Will Day. Forest fires are raging in Kentucky. A large amount of property has been destroyed and several lives lost. Arbor day, April 26th, should be generally observed. I am prepared to supply the wants of the Carson public with trees and plants. Apply personally or by letter to Sunny-side Nursery, South Carson. M. W. STARLING.

D. J. McGangley attempted to export money from Dr. Plouff in San Francisco last Saturday by means of a letter the Dr. had written and which had been secured by McGangley. The Dr. struck him with his cane and the other fired five shots, two taking effect. A subscriber to one of our Kansas exchanges wrote to the editor asking what the weather in the next month would be like. The reply was: "It is likely that the weather next month will be very much like your subscription bill." After a little pondering the inquirer recollected that his bill was unsettled, and so he at once sent a postal order.

The Overland Flyer.

U. S. Circuit Court.

Yesterday being rule day in the Circuit Court the following orders were made: Haydon vs. Nichols, one week further time to frame pleadings. Shields vs. Alhambro Mining Co. to be given one month further time to reframe pleading. Engler vs. Western Union, Deposition filed. Royston vs. Miller, and Stanton Thompson & Co. vs. Crane, order made for publication of the testimony. The case of Titus vs. the Southern Pacific Company comes up before a jury to day. It is relative to the obstructions of a county road near Verdi by the Southern Pacific, by which plaintiff was injured, two or three years ago. The State Land Office receipts for March were $2,120.

The Supreme Court Calendar.

No. 1424: State of Nevada, respondent vs. Alice M. Hartley, appellant, set for April 17. Appellant to file brief in 5 days; respondent 10 days thereafter. No. 1425: State of Nevada, respondent vs. Wong Fung, indicted as Wong Fong, appellant, set for April 15. Respondent's brief on file, appellant 15 days to answer. No. 1426: Chas. Craw, appellant, vs. Frank Wilson, respondent, set for April 15. Respondent to file brief in 10 days. No. 1428: H. H. Beck, respondent, vs. Wm. Thompson, appellant, set for April 22d. Each party 15 days to file brief. Appellant five days in which to answer. 1423. H. H. Hutchins, appellant, vs. J. Sutherland, respondent. Continued from January term. Cause submitted as per stipulation on file. April 4th.

Another Claimant.

Bridget O'Flaherty, who used to work at the Orphans Home years ago called at the APPEAL office yesterday and wanted to be directed to a lawyer who would sue the Fair estate for breach of promise. She said that Fair and she had corresponded for some years and she had a large stack of letters to show how much Fair had loved her. The only one she would allow to be published, was the following: Mrs. O'Flaherty.—In counting up my wedding I find you have frozen to some socks and two collars. I shan't pay for the wash until these things are returned. Yours, James Fair.

The Mint.

More detectives arrived Sunday, and Saturday's Examiner had more sensational articles about the Mint. On Sunday the boy who takes telegrams from the Western Union to the Mint was on the dead jump all day, and everybody saw that something was in the wind, but inquiries at the institution bore no fruit, for the officials were as close mouthed as ever.

This week, it is thought, will end the suspense, as it was reported yesterday that the clerical work of the investigation was over, and that in a few days Mr. Mason will leave for Washington. Meanwhile U. S. District Attorney Jones is below on business connected with the matter, and is expected to return this morning with some indictments. It is claimed that there is not a single man connected with the period where the shortage is located, who is not under detectives surveillance night and day.

It is thought certain parties would skip when they saw the coils tightening, but this is hardly likely, as it would be a confession of guilt, and only result in precipitating the arrest. The shortage goes over a period of ten years, and is much larger than at first reported.

Granted a New Trial.

The Supreme Court has handed down a decision in the case Alpheus Vaughan, convicted and sentenced to be hanged for the murder of John and Willie Litser in Lander county in December, 1893. The decision grants a new trial to the defendant.

As the feeling against Vaughan is said to be very high in Lander county it is quite probably that a change of venue will have to be secured for his second trial. In such case it is very likely to be tried at this place.

The evidence at the trial of Vaughan showed that the killing of the Litser boys was one of the most willful and cruel crimes in the history of the State. The murderer himself expresses no feeling of regret, but prides himself on making a good showing as the central figure of a necktie party, and glories in the fact that he "got both of 'em," referring to the murder of the Litser boys—Silver State.

Parnell Meets His Equal.

Laredo, Texas, April 1.—Yesterday in the bull ring at New Laredo, Mexico, the African Lion, Parnell, fought a terrible battle with an enormous grizzly bear of the American type. The animals fought desperately until completely exhausted, neither was killed. It was a bloody combat. The crowd went wild when twice the grizzly threw his African opponent so hard upon the ground, that once, had time been called, according to the usual rules, the lion would have been counted out. Throughout the battle the lion showed more agility and treachery, but to the bear must be given the palm for stubborn, solid strength. Parnell is owned by Colonel Boone, the lion tamer, and is the beast that killed his keeper at the Midwinter Fair. The bear was larger and heavier than the lion, and was secured at New Orleans, where he killed two keepers. The fight took place in a large circular steel cage twenty feet in diameter and fifteen feet in height.

Mines at a Premium.

Ten years ago mines were at a discount in the East. Now they are at a premium. Business men and investors are realizing that, in these days of almost impossible profits in business, nothing equals in value a gold mine as a dividend producer. It is noticeable that nearly all the successful mining operations of the larger sort, the big enterprises, are projected by corporations. The day of the combine has arrived in mining as in other enterprises, and an aggregation of skill and capital alone starts and maintains the largest mining enterprises of the day.

The Bishop's Will.

Father Grace of Sacramento has petitioned to have the will of the late Bishop Manogue probated. The value of the estate is unknown, but it is known to exceed $10,000. Bishop Manogue willed all of his personal property to Father Grace, and his real property to Archbishop Riordan to be held in trust for the church. The Bishop stated that he purposely left out all relatives.

Confirmation Services.

Mrs. E. F. Raymond, Miss Emma Kitzmeyer and Martha Murphy were confirmed on Sunday night at the Episcopal Church. The church was beautifully decorated with white marguerites, they being the principal flowers. Bishop Leonard delivered an eloquent sermon, and the selections by the choir were very fine.

Sunday Races.

There was a large crowd at the track Sunday to see the race between Graham's Diamond, Savage's Bessie S. Diamond won, and the crowd witnessed a free for all scrap, which added materially to the days sport. More racing and scrapping next Sunday.

This year, 1895, will be a remarkable one, both from an astronomical and a religious point of view. On Good Friday next, April 12th, the heavenly bodies which gravitate around the sun will be in exactly the same position that they occupied in the firmament on the day Christ died on the cross. It will be the first time such a thing has occurred since that great day, just 1862 years ago. That was the thirty-third year of the Christian era, which dates from the birth of Christ. At 4:20 in the morning, Paris time, the moon will pass before Virginus (Spica) and hide that constellation from view for over an hour. The above pretty little astronomical yarn is endorsed by almost everybody except professional astronomers. They say it is pure and simple guff.
